Comunicaciones confiables de señales de alarma para respuesta a medio ambiente con redundancia total

It is difficult to know how much to be particularly sensitive to the individual's own interests, especially in the case of those individuals who are in a position to be able to do so.

It is important to be conscious of the interconnectedness of systems. Global systems – especially the culture and political systems – provide institutionalized, legitimized, ongoing relationships across time. One of our job as leaders in the twenty-first century is to create the conditions, structures, and systems that support and sustain the development of people in various cultural environments. We realize that change is dependent on various global systems, including the United Nations, the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, and the World Health Organization.
